

PROBATION, INDUCTION AND ORIENTATION POLICY

Our Service aims to implement a probation, induction and orientation program to ensure employees are aware of their roles and responsibilities to enable effective performance within their employment at Alphabet Preschool. A formal induction and orientation program provides an opportunity for new employees to have an understanding of the values and organisational culture within our Service.

PURPOSE

We aim to ensure the most suitably qualified, experienced and reliable staff are employed at our Service. We are committed to ensuring we meet all legislative and regulatory requirements including the Education and Care Services National Law and National Regulations, Children and Young Persons Act, Fair Work Act, Family Assistance Law and Anti-Discrimination Act. The National Quality Framework states that a comprehensive induction process plays a critical role in creating and maintaining a positive and professional culture. By providing an efficient and effective induction and orientation program we aim to ensure employees have the skills and knowledge to perform their roles confidently.

An effective induction and orientation program provides a formal process to provide new employees, students and volunteers with information regarding service policies, procedures and practices. An induction and orientation program is available for all new employees and employees returning to work after a period of absence to ensure a smooth integration into our Service.

SCOPE

This policy applies to staff, educators, approved provider, nominated supervisor, volunteers, students and management of the Service.

CHILD SAFE STANDARDS

Our Service is committed to being a child safe Education and Care Service and embeds the Victorian Child Safe Standards. Our robust recruitment, probation and induction/orientation processes play a vital role in protecting children from harm.

PROBATIONARY PERIOD

All new employees are subject to a probationary period of six (6) months. This ensures assessment for both the employee and service to ensure suitability of the role for the employee.

The probationary period is a condition of employment for all new employees. During this time employees will receive advice, training and guidance to help them become familiar with and competent in, performing the work they have been appointed to do. The appointment is subject to the satisfactory completion of the probationary period which itself is subject to termination during any stage, by either party, upon notice in writing, or by payment in lieu of notice.

During the probationary period an induction and orientation program will be initiated with the new employee. This allows the new employee an opportunity to understand the expectations and standard of conduct required to pass the probationary period.

Probationary meetings will be scheduled within the first few weeks of employment, during the third month and at the end of the probationary period, and feedback will be provided to the employee regarding performance. The probation meeting is also an opportunity for the new employee to ask any questions or raise any concerns.

If concerns are raised during the probationary period, they will be addressed during the probationary meeting and documented. If a decision to end the employee's employment within the employment period is made, the employee will receive the appropriate notice as per employment contract and receive the termination of employment in writing. (See Probation Letters)

The employee may terminate employment within the probationary period by providing the appropriate notice in writing as per employment contract. The employer may terminate employment within the probationary period by providing the appropriate notice as per employment contract. A termination of employment letter will state the reason of termination, notice period and the date of the employee's last day of employment. (See Probation Letters)

At the end of the probationary period, the Approved Provider or appointed nominee will advise if the employee has successfully completed the probationary period and provide a letter confirming their ongoing employment. (See Probation Letters)

Employees, full time and part time, will accrue and are eligible to access paid leave entitlements during the probationary period such as annual leave and sick leave. If an employee does not pass their probation period any unused annual leave entitlements will be paid out.

INDUCTION AND ORIENTATION

Our Service is committed to providing a comprehensive induction program to ensure the smooth integration of new employees. The approved provider or assigned nominee will support the new employee and help them to understand the organisational structure, how decisions are made and communicated and what role they will have in the decision-making process.

An induction checklist will be used to support this process, which explains an employee's responsibility to know the policies, procedures and practices within our Service and their duty of care obligations to ensure the safety and wellbeing of all children.

Induction will include relevant information on child safe practices adhering to the Child Safe Standards, Code of Conduct, Child Information Sharing Schemes (CISS) and strategies that identify, assess and minimise risks to children and mandatory reporting procedures including Reportable Conduct Scheme. New employees (including the Nominated Supervisor and staff members), students and volunteers are to familiarise themselves with the Child Protection Policy to understand the Child Protection Law and their obligations and mandatory reporting duties to ensure the safety and wellbeing of children at the service.

On the first day of employment the approved provider or assigned nominee will ensure the new employee has completed all relevant paperwork.

The induction and orientation program will work alongside the probation period. It is expected the induction and orientation program will be performed during the six (6) month probation period. The new employee will be required to read and become familiar with key Service policies and procedures as part of the induction and orientation program.

During the induction and orientation program, new employees will be advised of any children with a health care need, allergy or relevant medical condition. The Service Philosophy, Staff Handbook, Code of Conduct and the Early Childhood Code of Ethics will be shared with the new employee during the induction and orientation program.

All new employees will be appropriately trained and informed of workplace health and safety policies and procedures before commencing employment, such as hazard and incident forms and reporting procedures, use of PPE equipment, location of fire safety equipment, emergency and evacuations procedures (including lockdowns), location and use of Safety Data Sheets (SDS), any WorkCover information, security procedures and location of first aid kits.

As part of the induction and orientation program, the Approved Provider or assigned nominee will provide opportunities for discussing and unpacking the following key documents, (including the location of these documents):

- Education and Care Services National Law and National Regulations
- The National Quality Standard
- Service Policies
- Belonging, Being and Becoming: The Early Years Learning Framework
- Early Childhood Australia- Code of Ethics
- Child safe standards
- Reportable Conduct Schemes

CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT/REFLECTION

Our Probation, Induction and Orientation Policy will be reviewed on an annual basis in consultation with children, families, staff, educators and management.
